RE: Your Institutional Profile

Enclosed is your Institutional Profile for the 2000 CIRP Freshman Survey, summarizing the results by gender for your institution, and comparing them to our national norms results at institutions of similar type.

Please note that this profile is generated automatically for all institutions. The comparison groups included were determined by the Stratification Cell assigned to your institution by the Higher Education Research Institute (see Figure A-1 of any recent copy of "The American Freshman: National Norms for xxxx" for details of the Stratification Cell classification). If you have ordered a "Special Comparison" Report featuring other comparison groups, you will be receiving it under separate cover in the next few weeks.

Please take a moment to read the accompanying memo entitled "Restratification". It may have important implications for your interpretation of the profile.

The reverse side of this memo contains some brief guidelines on how to read your Institutional Profile. If you are new to the CIRP Survey program, you might want to take a few minutes to review it.

If you have any question concerning the Institutional Profile, please feel free to write, call, FAX or e-mail us at your earliest convenience.
